

Food Growing in Schools – what next?

Wednesday 26th September 10am -2pm - (including lunch)

London Living Room, City Hall, London

hosted by Rosie Boycott and the London Food Board

Outcomes

- Recognition for this agenda
- Provide direction through a programme of activities
- Encourage funders to become involved
- Authority for a smaller, designated group to work on behalf of the wider group to take forward actions

Agenda

1. Introduction and overview of the day
2. Where are we now? - How is the socio - political landscape changing?
3. What needs to be done? - Overview of Growing Schools and Food Growing in Schools Taskforce recommendations
4. Benefits and best practice - Some inspiring and informative examples of best practice from across the sector.
5. What do stakeholders need to engage with food growing? - Workshops to explore some key questions around the six recommendations from the Food Growing in Schools Taskforce.
 - A national campaign celebrating food growing in schools
 - A policy emphasis on food growing in schools
 - A food growing in schools online hub
 - Business commitments to support food growing in schools
 - Promotion of food growing by school leadership teams
 - Improved links between food growing in schools and food-related careers
6. Next steps
7. Lunch